

MBBS IN BRAZIL

by Dr Munawar

Submission date: 09-Aug-2023 07:58AM (UTC-0500)

Submission ID: 2143520854

File name: MBBS_in_Brazil_for_Pakistani_students.docx (24.08K)

Word count: 2004

Character count: 11129

MBBS in Brazil for Pakistani Students

Pakistani students can pursue MBBS studies in Brazil, where several recognized universities offer high-quality medical education. Applicants must complete thorough entry requirements and proficiency in language tests, and the course of study typically lasts six years. Students studying MBBS in Brazil can expect a rewarding and diversified educational experience. IELTS is required in most medical universities, along with entrance examinations. The average fee structure lies between $7,800 to USD 41,000.

Teaching Language	Portuguese and English
Top Universities	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Federal University of Minas Gerais• Institute of Medical Sciences, Rio de Janeiro State University• Faculty of Medicine of the Fluminense Federal University• Faculty of Medicine of Marilia
Course Duration	MBBS is for about six years.
Average Application fee	Ranges from $100 to USD 150
Minimum education required	Twelve years of education with a science background.
Average fee structure	$7800 to USD 41000
Is IELTS needed or not?	Some universities require IELTS.
Entry Test	Yes
Eligibility criteria	Academic qualifications (CGPA), language proficiency, and other specific requirements set by the university.
Scholarships	Yes
Part-time job Working hours	20 hours per week
After the study work permit	Yes, after completing MBBS
Embassy location	Sector F-8/3, House 1-A, Street 72, Islamabad.
Bank statements	Yes
Average monthly expense	It ranges between $400 to USD 700 and varies on location and lifestyle.
Admission processing time	6-12 months at least.
Visa processing time	It requires several weeks or months.

Scholarships in Brazil for Pakistani students

- Brazilian Foundation for Medical Education and Research (FEBEM)
- Brazilian National Health Foundation (FNH)

1. Brazilian Foundation for Medical Education and Research (FEBEM)

The "Brazilian Foundation for Medical Education and Research" (FEBEM) is a well-known and respected organization dedicated to supporting medical education and research in Brazil. FEBEM is committed to promoting excellence in medical studies and driving advancements in healthcare through its comprehensive scholarship programs. The monthly stipend may vary between $300 - $600 USD. FEBEM provides a diverse range of scholarships tailored to meet the needs of international students pursuing medical degrees in Brazil. The foundation's scholarship programs encompass various aspects of medical education, covering tuition fees, research expenses, and living allowances. Eligible students are those who demonstrate exceptional academic achievements, research potential, and a strong commitment to making valuable contributions to the healthcare sector.

2. Brazilian National Health Foundation (FNH)

"Brazilian National Health Foundation (FNH)" offering scholarships. ⁴ The Brazilian National Health Foundation, also known as Fundação Nacional de Saúde (FUNASA), is a public institution in Brazil responsible for promoting public health, sanitation, and disease prevention. While FUNASA primarily focuses on public health initiatives and projects, it's possible that they may collaborate with other organizations or institutions to provide scholarships or funding opportunities in the health sector. The cost of stipend may vary in between $400 to $800 USD per month.

Universities in Brazil

The following are the famous and renowned universities in Brazil for MBBS:

1. Federal University of Minas Gerais
2. Institute of Medical Sciences, Rio de Janeiro State University
3. Faculty of Medicine of the Fluminense Federal University
4. Faculty of Medicine of Marília

3

1. Federal University of Minas Gerais

Federal University of Minas Gerais came into being in the year 1927. It has a world ranking of 691. The courses/programs that the university offers medical studies that comprises of medicine, dentistry, and nursing, along with medical studies it also offers programs in different fields of study that includes Information Science, Law, Architecture, and economics. Biological sciences, Veterinary medicine, Engineering, Social sciences, and philosophy. The university requires an IELTS scoring on a minimum of 6.0 band score. The Federal University of Minas Gerais charges an average tuition fee ranging between $7800 to $41000 USD on annual basis. It has an acceptance rate of 5.1%.

World Ranking	#691
IELTS required or not	Yes, minimum 6.0
Average tuition fee	Ranges around $7800 to $41000 USD
Acceptance rate	5.1%

1

2. Institute of Medical Sciences, Rio de Janeiro State University

The university was established in 1950. It is offering medical studies which includes dentistry, medicine and nutrition. The university has a world ranking of #1201. Institute of Medical Sciences charges average tuition fee for MBBS ranges from $7800 USD to $41000 USD. Moreover, the university requires a minimum band score of 6.0 in IELTS. Institute of Medical Sciences, Rio de Janeiro State University has an acceptance rate of 10%.

World Ranking	#371
IELTS required or not	Yes, minimum 6.0
Average tuition fee	Ranges around $7800 to $41000 USD
Acceptance rate	10%

3. ¹ Faculty of Medicine of the Fluminense Federal University

¹ Faculty of Medicine of the Fluminense Federal University was founded in 1960 under the name Universidade Federal do Estado do Rio de Janeiro (UFERJ). It is a well-known university of Brazil. It is offering programs in medicine, pharmacy, nursing and veterinary. It has a world ranking of #1201. The average tuition fee for MBBS ranges from $7800 USD to $41000 USD. IELTS is required with a minimum score of 6.0. Faculty of Medicine of the Fluminense Federal University has an acceptance rate of 30%.

World Ranking	#1201
IELTS required or not	Yes, minimum 6.0
Average tuition fee	Ranges around $7800 to $41000 USD
Acceptance rate	30%

4. Faculty of Medicine Marilia

Faculty of Medicine Marilia also known as Famema, a nonprofit medical institution, was founded in 1966. Over the years, Famema has shown a dedication to innovation in medical education, particularly by being the first institution in Brazil as the primary pedagogical strategy for its medical and nursing programs. It has a world ranking of #6716. The average tuition fee for MBBS ranges from $7800 to $41000 USD. The universities requires an IELTS scoring on a minimum of 6.0. The university has an acceptance rate of 49%.

World Ranking	#6716
IELTS required or not	Yes, minimum 6.0
Average tuition fee	Ranges around $7800 to $41000 USD
Acceptance rate	49%

Admission requirements and documents list

Pakistani students who are interested to go to Brazil to pursue their education; therefore, they must complete their application beforehand. Applying for an application students should complete their documents for admission according to the university. Here are the requirements for international students who are planning to study in Brazil:

- Your application form and the fee receipt.
- Your white background passport-sized pictures.
- Your transcripts and other records of your achievement, grades or any other academic achievement you have received in honor.
- Last degree certificate (12 years of education with a science background)
- Students must take an entrance examination for admission to the medical program
- Language test scores- Language scores of both English and Portuguese
- The evidence of your bank statements that whether you or your family have enough financial means for the survival in Brazil along with the travel expenses).
- You require a reference letter that includes any of your personal skills, qualities that you professionally and academically have, therefore, this letter should be signed by an individual who knows you personally and signs a letter of reference on his/her behalf.
- A personal statement of yours is needed in order to give an insight about you thoroughly that includes your personality, your professional or extracurricular experiences, career preferences in order to fit for the area of study you are planning to apply for in Brazil.
- You need a passport and ID card copy for your national identification.
- You need a letter of motivation
- Two letters of recommendations
- Medical examination

Visa requirements and documents for Pakistan students

Each university has its own requirements for its admission. Brazil offers many opportunities for students, but before that, students must complete all the requirements. Here are the below-mentioned documents that are needed for it:

- Your passport that needs to have a validity for at least six months, if its expiry is about to come, then you must apply for a new passport.
- Your visa application form
- Four recent passport-sized pictures.
- You need to show a proof of your admission or acceptance from the University of your Desired Chosen Country.

- The evidence of your bank statements that whether you or your family have enough financial means for the survival in Brazil along with the travel expenses). If you have gained any scholarship, then you need to attach the receipt of the financial aid.
- Your civil documents are required that includes your birth certificate and marriage certificate, in case if you are married.
- Your health insurance certification is required.

Cost of living in Brazil for Pakistani students

On average, international students in Brazil can expect to spend around $800 to USD 1,000 per month on living expenses. This covers accommodation, food, transportation, entertainment, and other daily necessities. For a comfortable and smooth living experience throughout the academic year, students are advised to budget approximately $9,600 to USD 12,000 for their yearly expenses in Brazil. In addition to living expenses, students should also consider the cost of tuition fees for their chosen degree programs. Tuition fees can vary depending on the university and the course of study.

Part-time working hours and income of MBBS Pakistani Students

International students studying MBBS in Brazil can work part-time for about 20 hours per week throughout their academic year. However, they can work for up to 40 hours per week during summer breaks or university holidays. Part-time employment opportunities may vary depending on the location or region where the student is studying. Larger cities with a higher concentration of universities often have more employment opportunities. As for income, the wages for part-time jobs in Brazil can vary significantly, depending on the type of work and the employer. As a general estimate, the hourly wage for part-time jobs could range from 10 to 20 Brazilian Reais per hour (BRL/hour). The actual income will depend on factors such as the number of hours worked and the prevailing wage rates in the specific area.

Work permits, and future opportunities are available for MBBS Pakistani students after their studies.

Pakistani students who complete their MBBS courses in Brazil have several options for work visas and future opportunities. They can apply for a work visa, giving them legal permission to work and obtain practical experience in their field of study. Furthermore, some students may receive a residency visa, allowing them to stay in Brazil for further studies or career prospects. Because there is a growing demand for healthcare professionals in Brazil, MBBS graduates, including international students, can look for work in hospitals, clinics, research institutions, and public health organizations. Because Portuguese is the official language in Brazil, proficiency in it is required. Graduates may also choose to return to their nation or apply their expertise in Brazil to pursue medical practice or other professional possibilities.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. How can I do MBBS in Brazil?

Applicants must have completed their 10+2 or equivalent qualification in Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and English (PCB).

2. How much does an MBBS doctor earn in Brazil?

In Brazil, the typical annual salary for a Physician averages around BRL 285,719, with an hourly rate of BRL 137. This places the average salary range for Physicians between BRL 189,717 and BRL 363,434. Generally, a Doctorate Degree represents the highest level of education attained by Physicians in their professional journey.

3. How long is medicine in Brazil?

Brazilian medical schools adopt a six-year curriculum, which follows the European model and consists of three cycles, each spanning two years. The initial two years are the primary cycle, during which students receive instruction in fundamental sciences such as anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, immunology, and other related subjects.

4. How much does MBBS cost in Brazil?

We can offer you an estimated range of tuition fees for an MBBS course in Brazil, which typically starts from USD 7,800 and can go up to USD 41,000 for the entire program. It is important to note that the students will bear additional expenses like living costs, which encompass accommodation and food.

5. Is IELTS required for MBBS in Brazil?

Approximately 90 universities in Brazil recognize the IELTS test as a valid language proficiency assessment. The average minimum IELTS score required for admission to these universities is 6.0.

MBBS IN BRAZIL

ORIGINALITY REPORT

5%

SIMILARITY INDEX

5%

INTERNET SOURCES

2%

PUBLICATIONS

1%

STUDENT PAPERS

PRIMARY SOURCES

1

en.wikipedia.org

Internet Source

3%

2

www.pheaa.org

Internet Source

1%

3

www.scielo.br

Internet Source

1%

4

C. H. N. Costa. "Household structure and urban services: neglected targets in the control of visceral leishmaniasis", Annals of Tropical Medicine and Parasitology, 04/01/2005

Publication

<1%

5

M. B. Stockler-Pinto, O. Malm, C. Moraes, N. E. Farage, W. S. Silva, S. M. F. Cozzolino, D. Mafrá. "A Follow-up Study of the Chronic Kidney Disease Patients Treated with Brazil Nut: Focus on Inflammation and Oxidative Stress", Biological Trace Element Research, 2014

Publication

<1%

Exclude quotes On

Exclude matches Off

Exclude bibliography On